BRITISH 8TH ARMY VETERANS AGAIN ON MOVE IN S. TUNISIA AS AMERICAN 5TH ARMY PUSHES TOWARD A JUNCTURE

Montgomery's Forces Smash Furiously at Axis Defenses 20 Miles North of Gabes — Patton's Men Advance Five Miles Eastward — British Open New Major Drive.

By International News Service

Battle-wise veterans of the British Eighth Army were on the move again today at the southern end of the Tunisian battlefield while units of the American Fifth Army pushed doggedly toward a juncture with them.

As Gen. Sir Bernard Law Montgomery's forces smashed furiously at Axis defenses at the Wadi El Akarit, 20 miles north of Gabes on the eastern coastal road, American troops commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., advanced five miles eastward in the El Guettar sector.

Official announcement that the British had opened a new major drive and gained their initial objectives was made at Allied headquarters. The attack, launched at 4.30 a. m. yesterday, was said to be proceeding according to plan.

The Wadi El Akarit, a wide, deep gully through which water flows at this season of the year, constitutes the last natural barrier that can be utilized by Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel before he begins a general withdrawal to the hilly region near Sousse, more than 100 miles away.

The Nazi-controlled Paris radio, perhaps anticipating such a withdrawal, reported that reinforcements are continuously reaching Gen. Patton and large-scale American attacks are expected. Other American troops are concentrating west of Pichon in Central Tunisia and the British First Army is about to attack in the Medjedel-Bab sector of the northern front, the Paris station added.

The Algiers radio said that Patton's forces have smashed a new Axis counter-attack and are continuing to advance east of El Guettar despite treacherous enemy minefields.

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY REPORTERS

"Ted" Krierlert, Perkaskie farmer, last week purchased two giant mules at a dispersal sale at West Chester. The mules were taken to Perkaskie by truck, where many farmers have inspected them and were impressed with their size.

The larger one of the two was sold as an "18 hand" animal, which reduced to inches, means that it is exactly six feet at the shoulders, but by actual measurement the animal goes two inches over that mark.

The other stands an even six feet. Krierlert cultivates 140 acres and has several tractors, together with all equipment for this source of farm power, but he asserts there are many jobs on a farm for which well-trained mules are indispensable.

Henry Springer, 64, dropped dead on Friday while at work at the Weisman Dairy, Dublin, death being attributed to a heart attack.

A native of Hilltown township, he had made his home recently with Austin Crouthamel. He was the son of the late Abraham and Mary Angene Springer, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Laura Lever, of Philadelphia. A brother-in-law, Edwin Crouthamel, lives at Dublin.

Mr. Springer was a member of the Hilltown Beneficiary Association.

ASKS BRISTOL SCHOOL BOARD TO SPONSOR DAY CARE NURSERY FOR THE CHILDREN OF MOTHERS WORKING IN WAR PLANTS HERE

The Bristol school board, last night, was asked to sponsor a Day Care Nursery for Children. The request was made by Miss Leanne Berton, chairman of the Committee for Day Care for Children under the office of Civilian Defense. The nursery would care for children from two to six years of age, of mothers engaged in war work.

The Board heard the appeal of Miss Berton and then held the matter under advisement. In presenting the subject Miss Berton told the board that the Bristol Rotary Club feels there is a need for such an institution here. She also stated that the basement of the Bristol Methodist Church was available for the purpose, and that if accepted some necessary alterations would be made. Some of the heads of the war industries here have been contacted with various reactions, some agreeing to co-operate financially while others still have the subject under consideration.

It was stated by Miss Berton that if 60 children are obtained that the Federal Government will appropriate a certain sum of money, which was not specified by the speaker, providing the nursery is sponsored by the school authorities, the school district being responsible for the operation and supervision of the nursery.

The charge for the care of the children in other nurseries ranges from 25 cents per day to $5 per week.

The set-up would require trained supervisors with 20 children in each group. One supervisor would care for ten children. If volunteer supervisors are available they will have to take a training course.

Miss Berton informed that a certain sum of money had been appropriated by the Federal Government for equipment for such projects.

Some budget figures were given in which it was mentioned that $6,850 had been estimated as the cost, less rent, heat and light.

It has been arranged through the co-operation of the American Red Cross and the Bucks County Board of Assistance to have Miss Eleanor Wignall sit in the regional office of the American Red Cross, 118 Mill street, second floor, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 13th and 14th, and Tuesday and Wednesday, April 20th and 21st, from 9.30 a. m. to 4 p. m., to discuss with and assist those women who are interested in placement of their children. This is purely a consultative service, and not an application for work or care for children.

HUSBANDS ORDERED TO SUPPORT WIVES

Cases Are Heard and Defendants Told to Comply With Court's Instructions

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 7.—The law caught up with a man married 2 years who has been giving his family and the court the "run-around" for some time.

It happened yesterday afternoon to John G. Achenbach, who at one time lived in Lansdale, but more recently boarded at one of the hotels here.

Before President Judge Hiram H. Keller, Probation Officer Howard E. Gwinner and District Attorney Edward G. Biester, Achenbach was brought in court to show cause why he had not paid his wife $70 that he owes her on a weekly support order made by Judge Keller February 2, this year.

Achenbach told the Court that he had been working at the Brewster plant at Johnsville until he had a physical breakdown and was laid off because he has tuberculosis, and is now awaiting admission to an institution at Hamburg.

While he was living at a Doylestown hotel, Achenbach was working for an oil pipe line on construction work in this vicinity.

Now he's in the Bucks County Prison, where he was committed by Judge Keller for contempt of court until he can straighten out his financial affairs with his wife.

Judge Keller made no order on Thomas Masley, 46-year-old Bethlehem Steel Company worker living at Bucksville, but he suggested yesterday that he pay his wife $19 a week allowance and that her son, Joseph Masley, pay $8 a week board to his mother, the $18 to be used to run the house.

Masley was in court on a charge of non-support brought by his wife. A charge of assault and battery against Masley is still pending, the court being informed that Masley broke his wife's arm during an argument last Christmas.

The Masleys still live in the same home and eat at the same table. Mrs. Masley testified that her husband has not given her any money for the past two years.

Masley, who makes $80 every 10 days testified that he paid all the taxes, bought part of the home with his own money and pays all the overhead bills. He said that he would often offer his wife money and even put $10 and $20 on the table at a time but that she would not take it. Mrs. Masley has

TWO NEW TEACHERS NAMED ON FACULTY OF BRISTOL SCHOOLS

TO RESIGN AS DIRECTOR

Miss Mary Watson Chosen As Teacher and To Be Assigned To Position

Two new teachers were elected, a medical inspector named and considerable other business was transacted at the meeting of the Bristol School Board held last night.

Miss Annie Heritage was chosen as principal at the Jefferson avenue building to succeed Mrs. Harvey E. Henry who will resign from the faculty at the end of the present term.

Mrs. Horace N. Davis was elected to teach in the Bath street building. Mrs. Davis is at present a member of the Board and will have to resign as such in order to accept a teaching position. Mrs. Davis is a former member of the teaching faculty here.

Miss Mary Watson was elected a member of the teaching faculty and will be assigned to a position by Warren P. Snyder, superintendent.

Miss Lillian White has been named as a substitute teacher, filling the vacancy created by the illness of John Burris.

Lester Michael was named director of vocational law training program in the Bristol schools.

The directors voted to close the high school earlier than usual if it is found that the students can assist on the farms in this vicinity.

Robert C. Ruehl, chairman of property committee, reported upon the physical conditions of some of the buildings and enumerated some repairs which will have to be made.

Dr. George A. Hussey, chairman of supply committee, asked for authority to advertise for coal bids.

Earl McEuen informed the board that conferences were being held with the teachers upon the subject of adjustment of salaries. The board decided to continue these conferences until such time as it has been determined what the outcome of the proposed state legislation will be.

The finance committee asked that a special meeting be held next week.

The report of David Hertzler, high school principal, was read and stated that ten seniors will enter the service of their country. He inquired concerning class night exercises and the board decided to have this program as in former years. It was also decided to have diplomas of those now in the service of their country, accepted on their behalf by their parents.

The use of the high school auditorium was granted to the Bristol Rotary Club for the evening of April 27th for the Rubloff concert.

Dr. William C. LeCompte was again chosen as medical inspector.

Mr. Snyder reported that the children of the schools had purchased $30,000 in war bonds and stamps since September 1st.

A letter of appreciation from the Mill street merchants was read in which the board was thanked for permitting the co-operation of the students during the Christmas season.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Part Of A Pattern

Washington, April 6.

THE recent Senatorial attack upon the President's plan to make Mayor LaGuardia a brigadier general may, possibly, force the whole strange scheme to be dropped. At any rate, there is a prospect now that the effort to send Mr. LaGuardia to Africa as an army officer will meet something of the same kind of opposition that nullified the effort to send Mr. Eddie Flynn to Australia as an Ambassador. There is no Belgian paving block scandal linked with the LaGuardia name, but there is a strong disposition among politicians to consider his appointment as part of the New York political game which the President started to play last summer when he brought out

Senator Meade to oppose Mr. Farley's candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

IN BOTH parties that was regarded as a struggle for control of the 1944 national convention delegation, Mr. Farley did not hesitate to say so. In political circles the Flynn appointment was considered a follow-up of the unsuccessful Meade fight, with the same objective of strengthening the Administration's position for next year. A pretty good case for putting the LaGuardia appointment in the same category is made.

In the first place, it is clear Mr. LaGuardia has not been "drafted." On the contrary, he has been itching to get into uniform and pressing to have a part in the war for a long time. In the second place, he has a personal following in New York, is extremely strong with the radical American Labor party and undoubtedly will be a factor, so far as New York is concerned, in the pre-convention struggle upon winning which so many ardent

GRAND THEATRE

A topical film about the British Commandos and their efforts to expose a vicious group of spies operating in England, opens at the Grand Theatre today. The picture is "Gorilla Man," starring John Loder and Ruth Ford. A group of Nazi spies operating in a sanitarium in the south of England receive word that a British Commando group carrying military information is expected to land nearby. The spies meet the Commandos and persuade the wounded captain to take refuge in the sanitarium. Intercepting a radio message in Morse code, the captain becomes suspicious, and sets about to expose the spies, but not until they have involved him in a series of crimes. How he extricates himself and brings the culprits to justice makes for exciting entertainment.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

THE Civil Air Patrol has recruited more than a third of the nation's 100,000 civilian pilots to fly for national defense. Coming from every walk of life, they are putting forth an extra something to do their trained part. To them and to you, in its own way, ice-cold Coca-Cola offers something extra, too. More than just quenching thirst it brings refreshment... refreshment that goes into energy.

Made with a finished art and with a taste all its own, Coca-Cola has quality that sets it apart. Here is something in refreshment that was, and still is, original. Coca-Cola offers all the difference between something really refreshing and just something to drink. There's no comparison.

War-time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time.

Even on the ground, pilots know that your thirst takes wings when you drink ice-cold Coca-Cola. Refreshment comes to take its place.

been living on the wages that her son Joseph gave her every week. Joseph works at the Bethlehem Steel Company with his father and makes $60 every 10 days. Another son, Steven, is in the Army. The case was continued by Judge Keller with the thought that the suggested $18 a week will work out satisfactorily.

Henry H. Welles, Phila., employed at a Philadelphia steel works, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to a charge of driving while drunk in Doylestown, when a Motor Police arrested him after he had been clocked at 55 miles per hour. There was no accident in the case. Judge Keller fined Welles $150 and costs.

Walter Potrowski, of near Morrisville, was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Calvin S. Boyer subject to a detainer lodged by the New Jersey courts. He was involved in a hold-up in Bucks county some time ago.

James Carson, Hatboro, who was serving a sentence for a motor violation, was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Boyer on condition that he take a job offered him on Sheriff Francis Myers' farm at New Britain.

Norman Weaver, 19, Upper Black Eddy, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to three burglary and larceny jobs in the Tincum township section. One robbery took place at the home of Charles Weaver, a cousin, where he stole tires; the home of Mrs. C. H. Johnson, where guns and a revolver was stolen; and the dwelling of Mrs.

Alex Manes, where four more tires were stolen.

Judge Keller sentenced Weaver to six to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison.

War Workers Eager
For Victory Gardens

facturing firm had requests for garden plots from more than twice the number there were in 1942.

A total of 125 employees of Rohm & Haas Company signed up for 1943 Victory gardens, and by their efforts in augmenting the nation's food supply hope to see victory for the Allies come that much faster.

The 125 plots, measuring 50x50 feet are located near the Bellemeade Farm buildings, a short distance from the Rohm & Haas Co. plant. The ground has already been plowed and disced, and on Monday the plots were staked out.

Some of the gardeners have already commenced work, while others expect to start planting in a day or so. Employees of Hunter Manufacturing Company are also among the would-be Victory gardeners of 1943.

At the Emille plant of Hunter Company 25 employees have signed up for garden plots, and at the Bath Road plant a total of 24 have asked for garden space.

The plots provided by the firm at the Emille and Bath Road plants measure 50x50 feet, and it is expected that very soon men and women will be seen busily engaged in planting, raking, hoeing after plant hours.

They're joining for JOY

No actual people or scenes are portrayed by this illustration.

MEET Lieutenant Joy Hooven of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, now leading a recruiting unit in the middle west.

Before going military on us, the radiant smile of Joy brightened P.E.'s Statistical Division at our 10th and Chestnut Street headquarters. But along with 790 others from all departments of the company, Joy has donned a uniform for the duration.

Altogether, upwards of 10% of P.E.'s employee family now are in the armed forces. Naturally, that places heavy new responsibilities upon the shoulders of those whose duty it is to remain on the home-front.

For electricity, you know, is ammunition of the most essential sort.

So much as an hour's interruption in the flow of power to Philadelphia's war factories means a loss of weapons for our boys over there.

That is why the men and women who operate your electric company are firm in their resolve that nothing shall interfere with keeping electricity on the job night and day, week in week out. Also, that is why we are so proud of their record to date.

Not a single war plant has been delayed by P.E. Service—and every effort is being made to see that none is delayed.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Write Him a V-Mail Letter—Use handy V-Mail when you write your boy overseas... the letter that travels on film. Not only the fastest and surest way of getting messages to him—but it also saves space for the food and weapons he needs. Sixty-five V-Mail letters take no more space than one regular letter. Your post office or stationery store can supply V-Mail letter forms. It costs only 3c to send a V-Mail letter to a soldier anywhere in the world.
